DIPLOMAT'S AUTO CRUSHES A CYCLIST

Senor Montagliari Rescues Negro After Accident.

Marchese Paolo di Montagliari, counselor of the Italian Embassy, accidentally drove his motor car into a bicycle ridden by a negro in Connecticut avenue yesterday afternoon, demolishing the bicycle and injuring its rider.

Senor Montagliari stopped his car and ran to the aid of the injured rider. He lifted him in the automobile and drove to Emergency Hospital. Physicians found that the negro was more frightened than injured. He sustained a contusion of the right leg and minor bruises about the body and right arm.

The accident occurred shortly after 1 o'clock, when Senor Montagliari was driving north in Connecticut avenue. Lawrence Jefferson, a negro, eighteen years old, tried to pass before the automobile in order that he might ride through M street. Montagliari saw the negro's purpose too late to prevent a collision, although he stopped the car in a few yards.

SODA WATER MEN MEET

Come from Many Cities to Decide on Flavors.

Expect to Learn To-day What Coloring Government Will Permit Being Used Coming Season.

Soda water manufacturers are putting their heads together to find out just where they stand in relation to the pure food laws.

A star chamber session of the National Manufacturers of Soda Water Flavors Association was held last night at the New Willard Hotel, which lasted until nearly midnight.

"Just what we can do in regard to coloring soda water" was the general subject under discussion.

Another meeting will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at the Agricultural Department, when they will find out just what they can do in regard to coloring soda water.

The convention was held here by appointment, and the delegates are chiefly from Atlanta, St. Louis, Chicago, Philadelphia, and New York.

At the meeting to-day the delegates will tell the department they are unable to have their labels printed for this season's business until they find out what they want to know.

YOSEMITE GUIDE DEAD.

Galin Clark Known to Practically Every Tourist in Famous Valley.

San Francisco, March 25.—Galin Clark, who died last night in Oakland, just across the bay from this city, has been known for the last half century to almost every tourist who has visited the Yosemite Valley. It was Galin Clark who, while on a hunting trip in 1857, discovered the great redwood grove at Mariposa, in California.

Soon after that, Clark devoted much of his time to exploring the upper heights of the Sierra Nevada Mountains, and made known to the world much of the beauties and wonders of the big tree groves and of Yosemite.

For the past twenty years Clark has served as guardian of the valley, part of the time under State and later under the Federal government, since the keeping of the park has been undertaken by the United States.

PROGRESS IN PHILIPPINES.

Fairbanks Says Visit to Dependency Was Surprise of His Tour.

Indianapolis, March 25.—Speaking of his trip around the world, callers to-day, former Vice President Fairbanks said that the most surprising thing he met was the improvements that have been made in the Philippines.

"Nobody can imagine," he said, "what has been accomplished there under American occupation. The educational department is established on very broad lines. There are 500,000 boys and girls in the public schools out of a population of 7,000,000. Of course, many dialects are spoken in the islands, but now many of the different tribes are able to speak with each other through the medium of the English language."

"The natural resources of the islands are being developed gradually. The government is studying the natural resources in a scientific manner, and the productivity of the islands may be considerably increased by the adoption of more enlightened methods."

Mrs. Gayley and her daughters, who leave for New York to-night, were not present, but Gayley sat with his counsel and heard the decision.
